

At the UPZ took place the promotion of the book “These were hard times for Scanderbeg, but he had an ally, the Hungarian Hunyadi” organized by the Hungarian Embassy in cooperation with UPZ.

As part of the science and culture programs of the Hungarian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade in the Western Balkans, the Hungarian Embassy on Monday at the University “Ukshin Hoti” in Prizren organized the promotion of the book “These were hard times for Scanderbeg, but he had an ally, the Hungarian Hunyadi ”- Episode in Historical Albanian-Hungarian contacts. This volume is dedicated to the rich historical and academic links between the Albanian-Hungarian communities and has been prepared for publication by the Hungarian Academy of Sciences.

Rector of University “Ukshin Hoti” in Prizren, Prof. Assoc. Dr. Ismet Temaj on this occasion stressed that it is an honour for the University that he directs to host this book promotion for national hero George Kastrioti “Scanderbeg” and his Hungarian ally Hunyadi.

Also a short speech was held by the ambassador Dr. László Márkusz, who was a editor of this book, also at the promotion of this book Mr Kristian Csaplar-Degovics Mr. Antal Molnar and Mrs. Elenora Gera introduced to the students and respective guest shortly the main content of this book.