

The Faculty of Computer Science organized a workshop on the topic: “Digitalization of business processes through web applications and game development

