Along with performances of Meriç Primary School Rhythm Group Choir, Pınarhisar Atatürk Middle School Children Choir and Trakya University State Conservatory Student Symphony Orchestra kids have displayed their talents on the piano, drums, violin and many more instruments in the First International Balkan Children Music Festival.

The festival concluded with a certificate ceremony for the participants and Rector Prof. Dr. Erhan Tabakoğlu's presenting gifts to project organizers.

Edirne Attorney General Fatih Karabacak, Rector Prof. Dr. Erhan Tabakoğlu as well as many art-lovers and parents as guests participated in the First International Balkan Children Music Festival, where the children of all ages had the excitement of going on stage for the first time.

THE LARGEST SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA OF THE BALKANS CONTINUE TO EVOKE ADMIRATION

The largest symphony orchestra of the Balkans, Trakya University Balkan Symphony Orchestra, keeps making headlines both nationally and in the Balkan region with its successes and quality in music. One of the headlines of Trakya University Balkan Symphony Orchestra was about their "Cumhuriyet'e Ses Verenler" (Sonant of the Republic) concert.

For its concert performance, one of Turkey's most prominent art magazines - Hurriyet Sanat has featured Trakya University Balkan Symphony Orchestra and praised their performance. In the publication, Edirne was mentioned as having inadequate facilities unlike Istanbul, Ankara and Izmir and the expectations were set lower in comparison, but the outcome came as a shock and Trakya University Balkan Symphony Orchestra had displayed a performance on par with them and the emotions of excitement and pride were felt together.

The publication also gave praise to the concert Conductor Musicolog Ersin Antep, Vice-Rector of Trakya University and State Conservatory Director Prof. Ahmet Hamdi Zafer as concert master and the members of the orchestra. Trakya University Balkan Symphony Orchestra keeps creating new success stories every day.

In his opening speech, Speaker of Turkish Grand National Assembly and also the honorary leader Prof. Dr. Mustafa Şentop has expressed himself by saying "It's a great reason to be happy to witness such an event taking place in Skopje where I feel like I'm living national and personal history again. As a scholar, I, myself, have studied and taught in universities for 20 years too. I have raised students. It's a great pleasure to be part of this spectacular community. One other reason for my happiness from being here is national. We are the citizens of a nation who take pride in its history, national heritage, and unity. During this event and the time, we will spend here, I believe once more we will witness how big Turkey is, how prideful our history is and how altruistic our people truly are." Remarking the delivery of salutations of President Recep Tayyip Erdogan and the Turkish nation,

Prof. Dr. Mustafa Şentop continued "The leader of the War of Independence and the founder of our nation, Mustafa Kemal Atatürk had seen you and Greek emigrants as national and sacred memories of our history. Memories remind us of the past but they are not left behind. You are the sacred relics that remind us of the past but living in today. Turkey is bonded with you at heart."

As part of the congress having the characteristics of 'a return visit' after the Ramadan dinner organized with the attendance of Turkish Grand National Assembly chairman Prof. Dr. Mustafa Şentop in May, the participants have visited culturally and sentimentally important Macedonian heritage sites bearing the rooted patterns of our civilization, proving the world again that North Macedonian - Turkish relations are exemplary. This congress has enabled Macedonians and Turks to get together once more both on scientific and cultural fields.

TRAKYA UNIVERSITY SULTAN BAYEZID II HEALTH MUSEUM BREAKS RECORD AFTER RECORD

One of the vision projects of Trakya University following the theme of "Cultural Heritage and Preservation" the Sultan Bayezid II Health Museum keeps getting more and more visitors. Trakya University Sultan Bayezid II Health Museum, which is pride of Edirne as well as Turkey, had another important day in its history. Built as an example project in 1997, the museum gathers both domestic and international visitors. Accepting visitors from many places, Sultan Bayezid II Health Museum has reached a new peak - 8,750 visitors-- on May 5th 2019. The museum attracts visitors in April 2018 with 3,700 visitors. With great interest from domestic and international visitors throughout 2019, the museum has shown a growth of 123% with 8,254 visitors in April 27th this year. As the most visited museum of its field in Turkey, the museum has shown a growth of 64% in visitors from 35,541 visitors in previous year's April to this year's 58,308 visitors. With its valuable displays and record numbers, Sultan Bayezid II Health Museum surpasses Edirne's borders and achieves an international recognition. Number of foreign visitors shows a 143% growth from April citizens so much that there are queues of visitors at the entrance every day. Besides, it completed the year 2018 with record numbers. the 531 year old Ottoman era complex, which is restored by Trakya University and curated by Dr. Ratıp Kazancıgil, now serves as a museum in Edirne with the highest number of visitors.

Since its opening day, the museum has shed light in Ottoman tradition of medicine with its reenactments as well as its academics, history of medicine, medicinal practice and education. The museum had the highest record of daily 2018's 657 visitors to this year's 1603 visitors. Sustaining growth and attracting more and more tourists into the city, Sultan Bayezid II Health Museum peaked at 8,750 visitors on May 5th 2019, surpassing its previous daily visitor peak of 7,500 visitors record and successfully breaking the record of museum visitors in Edirne.

Having the great responsibility of transferring city's memory onto the future and introducing Edirne on the international stage, the museum is Turkey's first healthcare center and also first university museum to be accepted into UNESCO World Heritage List. The museum is growing day-by-day thanks to its visitors, and has welcomed many visitors in Ramadan harmonious with Edirne's orientation of displaying belief and religious prosperity befitting of Islam's spirituality.

Having expressed the great strives they go to in order to increase the number of both domestic and international visitors, Trakya University Vice Secretary General as well as Sultan Bayezid II Health Museum manager Assoc. Prof. Hakan Akıncı said "Sultan Bayezid II Health Museum gets thousands of domestic and international visitors every year. We open our doors to more and more visitors every year. Our museum has won countless awards and contributed to our city's tourism industry by attracting thousands of visitors interested in fine arts, culture and history. Our museum has achieved a significant number of visitors last year's 5th May as well as this year. This date marks the high number of 8,750 visitors both domestic and international. In 2017, we had 249,830 visitors in our museum and in 2018 we accomplished a substantial number of 270,669 visitors. By the end of this year, we believe that we will increase our visitor numbers.

With a rising interest in cultural tourism and increasing visitor numbers, Sultan Bayezid II Health Museum is a candidate of becoming a global cultural center in the future. We work hard in order to make a symbolic part of Edirne as a part of daily lives of people."

Having expressed his gratitude regarding the visitor numbers of Sultan Bayezid II Health Museum, rector of Trakya University Prof. Dr. Erhan Tabakoğlu said "Displaying the delicate details, the care it gave to its people and social government structure of our civilization, this healthcare center welcomes visitors as a living, breathing museum. Our Health Museum is making rapid process in becoming a central point in Turkey starting from Edirne. Being the center of projects such as Children Academy and Hand-in-hand With Edirne, has welcomed an impressive number of 8,750 visitors on May 5th 2019. This success of our museum contributing Edirne's recognition is the result of sustained hard work... I thank everyone who helped our museum's foundations and live up to see these days."

THE RESULTS OF THE PROJECT “THE MAIN ELEMENT OF US” WERE PRESENTED AT UT

On July the 4th 2019, at the University of Tetova were presented the results of the project “The main element of us”, a joint project of the University of Tetova, “Nisantasi” University from Turkey, Sofia University from Bulgaria and the organization Adefis Juventud Internacional from Spain.

Initially, a joint meeting was held between the management of the University of Tetova and that of the universities from Turkey and Bulgaria, as well as with the representatives of the Spanish organization Adefis Juventud Internacional, at the premises of the Rectorate of the University of Tetova. In addition to welcoming the successful realization of the joint project “The Main Element of Us”, the interlocutors in of scientific research by well-known scientific authorities, said Prof. Dr. Hazir Pollozhani.

The Rector of the University “Nisantasi” from the Republic of Turkey, Prof. Dr. Esra Hatipoglu regarded this project as highly important as it identifies several topics concerning cultural organization and enhancement of cooperation in the field of education, culture, and technological innovations. “We as a university give our best in preparing students for the changes that take place in the world. We always come across discussions on education in general and we often emphasize that education will not be valid if we are not committed to quality enhancement and professional preparation of the this meeting also discussed about the deepening of future cooperation in the field of culture, education and scientific research.

The Vice-Rector for Science of the University of Tetova, Prof. Dr. Hazir Pollozhani, reconfirmed the professional engagement and serious approach of the University of Tetova in fulfilling the institutional obligations for all projects of national and international character. As he said, this commitment is evidenced by the concrete results we have achieved in the international realm, transforming into the main - leading institution of many projects, such as the today's one, whose results speak for our mutual successes. “In the strategy of our University, we have listed the scientific research and studies as the main priority of this institution's work, so today, we are proud when our university is selected among prestigious international universities and credible agencies, to lead the realization of projects, and also, UT is considered as an appropriate institution for the development new staff. Our main goal is to prepare for all the challenges that await us regarding these issues and start talking about artificial intelligence, data collection, analytical processing and computerization, and discuss more and more every day about new methods to be introduced in education,” said Prof. Dr. Esra Hatipoglu

Professor Zeynep Birsu from Nisantasi University, briefly presented the Erasmus Plus program. According to her, this program changes year by year with the increase of the funds available to professors and students. “Currently, the Erasmus Plus program also allocates funds for development, research, entrepreneurship projects, in order to strengthen cooperation between industry and universities. Creating a strategic partnership center has become very important in order to work with different sectors and from next year there will be new Erasmus plus programs and certainly the funds for professors and students will increase even more”, stressed Prof. Dr. Zeynep Birsu.

The Vice-Rector for International Cooperation of the University of Tetova, Prof. Dr. Arbër Çeliku spoke about the project "The main element of us". "The project is conceived in such a way to include, besides the scientific education aspect, the building of bridges of friendship and cooperation among nations. The very important element of this project is that it doesn't end here, but instead we are building new strategies for the future over a longer period of time and jointly have designed a master program in the field of intercultural and transcultural communication. Certainly, in this project, we are thinking to include universities from Europe, the United States of America and to transfer the competencies of this project to the Center for Peace and Transcultural Management", said Prof. Dr. Arbër Çeliku.

UT PARTICIPATES IN THE 20TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BOLOGNA DECLARATION

Over 800 participants from more than 50 signatory states of the Bologna Declaration and over 200 rectors of universities attended the academic march organized in honor of this Declaration, which created a common European higher education space.

The conference was held in several parallel sessions, where the achievements and challenges faced by universities throughout the 20 years were presented, including the social dimension of higher education, the academic and civic values in changing societies, sustainable development and the role of higher education, etc.

The University of Tetova was represented by a delegation

The project "The main element of us" is financially supported by the National Agency for European Education and Mobility, as well as the European Union through the Erasmus Plus international program.

In gratitude for the contribution and commitment to this project, the Vice-Rector for Science of the University of Tetova, Prof. Dr. Hazir Pollozhani, awarded a gift depicting the portrait of the Albanian humanist Mother Teresa to the Rector of the University "Nisantasi", Prof. Dr. Esra Hatipoglu, and the first Secretary of the Bulgarian Embassy in our country, Stanimir Gizdev.

consisting of Ass. Prof. Shefik Shehu, Head of the Project Office, Ass. Prof. Kushtrim Ahmeti - university coordinator for ECTS, Ass. Prof. Agon Memeti, Head of the Office for Science and Innovation and Mr. Sc. Vjollca Memishi-Fejza from the Office for Evaluation and Quality. During the conference, the representatives of the University of Tetova held meetings with a significant number of personalities participating in this event.

The host Rector, Prof. Dr. Francesco Ubertini, expressed readiness to deepen cooperation between the two universities in bilateral projects, but also within the framework of initiatives and respective platforms within the European Union. Meanwhile, the President of the Magna Charta Universitatum Observatory, Dr. Sijbolt Noorda, expressed gratitude and satisfaction for the contribution and intensification of cooperation with the University of Tetova, in recent years, culminating in the organization of the regional workshop in 2015 and expressed readiness for the organization of similar activities in the coming years.

UT HOLDS THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF NATURAL, HEALTH AND TECHNOLOGICAL SCIENCES

At the University of Tetova, in the presence of many scholars from the country, the region and the world, the International Congress of Natural, Health and Technological sciences began its work. Within this congress, from 15 to 17 May 2019, five international scientific conferences, organized by five different academic units of our University, will be held.

The Faculty of Physical Culture, in the framework of this congress organizes the sixth International Scientific Conference; The Faculty of Applied Sciences holds the fifth international scientific conference; The Faculty of Medical Sciences is organizing the fourth international scientific conference; The Faculty of Mathematical and Natural of a success marked by our faculties, our universities, co-organizers of the International Congress of Natural Sciences, Health and Technology. Today's congress will promote the new issues of the scientific journals of the five faculties, with 291 scientific papers of about 500 co-authors, well-known scholars, scientific researchers from the country and the region, who have contributed to the advancement of science, new contributions and overcoming the problems that pose a challenge to the sciences of medicine, physical culture, applied sciences, natural sciences and the sciences of food technology and nutrition. We assess that these activities are of particular importance to the academic community as Sciences holds the third International Conference and the Faculty of Food Technology and Nutrition organizes the first international scientific conference.

At the official opening of the works of this congress, the Rector of the University of Tetova, Prof. Dr. Vullnet Ameti, said that this congress offers a valuable opportunity for all relevant experts of the respective field, to discuss and analyze among themselves experiences, research and new scientific contributions. "Today, we all have the pleasure of being part they enable the exchange of ideas, the acquisition of multiple knowledge, the creation of links and friendships of local and foreign scholars. The University of Tetova feels honored today that it is host to this scientific congress, as I assure you that in the future we will continue to work with dignity, dedication, and professionalism in all academic, cultural and human processes", said the Rector of UT, Prof. Dr. Vullnet Ameti.

The Rector of the University of Medicine in Tirana, Prof. Dr. Arben Gjata, considered this congress as a highly successful scientific activity for the fact that besides presenting very important scientific works from natural, health and technological sciences, scholars will share their experiences and encourage very productive debates that will be of interest to students. "These meetings are the way we can overcome the difficulties we have, because here we have a large number of well-cultured people, who today not only work in the most important health institutions, not only in the countries of the region but even in the Western world; an important intellectual diaspora, and the universities must make the utmost effort to cooperate with this elite of society, to exchange good scientific experiences among themselves, trainings and continuous formation, and I believe this is the right path.

I believe that the University of Tetova and we as the University of Medicine in Tirana are open to cooperation with these people and continue to pursue this path of cooperation, in order for our universities, our students to be formed as professionals and as worthy citizens of our countries, "said Prof. Dr. Arben Gjata.

Whereas, the Rector of the University of Elbasan "Aleksander Xhuvani", Prof. Dr. Skënder Topi, highly appreciated the organization of this congress. As he said, words are scarce for this event if we look at the program of this scientific event which involves the organization of five different international scientific conferences and within the campus of the university has gathered scientific eminent individuals from different countries of the world. "Words are scarce when you look at the agenda of this congress; to organize five scientific conferences on different days and a joint opening like this today is impressive. Among us there are hundreds of scholars of various fields and hundreds of works will be presented during the conference, imagine how much effort and dedication; certainly for this great organization I would thank on my behalf and on that of the University of Elbasan, the Rector of the University of Tetova, Prof. Dr. Vullnet Ameti and this time I would also thank the Rector's staff, who have done a wonderful job. This is a great day for the University of Tetova because many important academic institutions are involved in this event and this is a great impetus for our inter-institutional cooperation ", emphasized Prof. Dr. Skënder Topi.

This scientific event was also greeted by the Prof. Dr. Luigi Santacroce, President of the Nursing Degree course, from Bari of Italy.

At the solemn opening of this congress was held a professional lecture on research methods in multidisciplinary projects, with particular emphasis on projects made for industry, public actors and other research projects, by Prof. Dr. Arianit Kurti, lecturer at Linnaeus University of Sweden.
